Universal Conclusion Formula

Think of every conclusion in 3 simple steps:

1) Where are we now? (Progress / Status)
2) What is still missing? (Problem / Gap)
3) What should be done? (Way Forward / Solution)

Meaning you should always consider (Present → Problem → Path Ahead) while writing a conclusion.

> One-Line Template (Use Anywhere)
> "While _____ (progress), _____ (challenge), therefore _____ (way forward)

Now we will try to understand how to write topic wise conclusion to enhance our writing skill.

1) Economic and Social Issues

Progress → Gaps → Action → Inclusive Goal

Template:
"India has achieved _____, but _____ persists, therefore _____ is needed to ensure inclusive and sustainable growth."

2) Finance

Strength → Risk → Reform

Template:
"The financial system is stronger with _____, however _____ risks remain, thus _____ reforms are essential."

3) Management

Improvement → Challenge → Fix

Template:
"While organisations have improved in _____, challenges like _____ remain, hence _____ is required."

Generic (Use in any answer)

Now → Issue → Need

Template:
"Although _____, _____ continues to be a concern, therefore _____ is necessary."

How to Fill the Blanks

Since 1st Blank is talking about the Progress element, you must Use positive words. Example words: improved, strengthened, growing, expanding
Example:
"India's growth remains robust…"

2nd Blank is talking about the existing Problems; means you must balance (not overly negative) while highlighting the challenges
Example: however, despite this, concerns remain

3rd Blank is a Way Forward, hence Use solution-oriented words

- Example: therefore, thus, hence, going forward

Example

"India continues to be one of the fastest-growing major economies, however global uncertainties and structural challenges persist, therefore strengthening domestic demand and policy reforms will be key to a sustainable long-term growth."

Note -The above templates are only guiding frameworks, not fixed answers. Your conclusion should be tailored to the specific demand of the question. Wherever possible, briefly reflect important ideas or factors discussed in the main body of your answer as this will give your conclusion a logical direction.
Avoid introducing new points; instead, synthesise what you have already written into a concise, forward-looking closing.

Conclusion and Introduction must be balanced in nature means both not exceeding 10% of your word limit. If the required word limit is 620 words then your intro and conclusion must be of 60 words (max) each.
